Time: 1:00 pm

FREE!

Featuring: Meagan Brus (Soprano) &
Jeremy Rafal (Piano)

Music for Autism is raising public awareness and enriching lives through autism-friendly, interactive concerts developed specifically for individuals with autism and their families. The concerts, held in the United States and the United Kingdom, feature professional musicians—including Tony Award winners and Grammy-nominated classical artists.

This special concert is part of the Linda Rodgers Emory Concert Series and will be featuring Meagan Brus (soprano) and Jeremy Rafal (piano). Meagan and Jeremy are both active solo and chamber musicians with performances under their belts that span across the USA, Europe, and Asia. They will present music from baroque to contemporary to musical theater selections the whole family can sing along to. The concert has been generously underwritten by the Richard and Dorothy Rodgers Fund of UJA-Federation.
