AN INTERACTIVE CONCERT
For Individuals with Autism and their Families

featuring

The Shepherd School Brass Quintet

The Shepherd School Brass Quintet is comprised of Master's students at Rice University's Shepherd School of Music. The brass quintet consists of five brass players – two trumpets, a horn, trombone, and tuba. In addition to performing many educational outreach concerts, this quintet has the distinction of serving as the face of the Shepherd School for public events at the university. They bring a varied selection of music for us to enjoy.
