

&

proudly present

AN INTERACTIVE CONCERT

for Individuals with Autism and their Families

featuring
Glenn Donnellan
Follow That Fiddle

Glenn Donnellan, violinist, joined the National Symphony Orchestra in 1997. A native of Washington State, he also enjoys fiddling, playing jazz and Rock N Roll. Whether touring the world with the NSO, playing in a Broadway show like The Lion King, or performing for young audiences in his own solo programs, Glenn is always fascinated with how music connects with our lives, enriching and inspiring us.

He adds to the excitement of his live performances by performing on his Electric Slugger™, an electric violin made out of a Louisville Slugger baseball bat, which he performs on at MLB games (view on YouTube) and for audiences of all ages.

NEW TIME: October 5, 2013 at 11AM

The Ivymount School
11614 Seven Locks Road
Rockville, Maryland 20854

Music for Autism is enriching lives and raising public awareness through autism-friendly interactive concerts developed specifically for individuals with autism and their families. The concerts, held in the United States and the United Kingdom, feature professional musicians, including Tony Award winners and Grammy-nominated classical artists.

Music for Autism concerts are fully subsidized and free for all individuals with autism and their family members, but RSVP's are essential. Please RSVP under the "Concert Calendar" on www.musicforautism.org (preferred) or by calling 877.863.7473.

ADMISSION IS FREE.